

Nicht Unser Krieg

Weltkunstzimmer Düsseldorf 24.2. - 5.3.2023 _ opening 24.2. 19:00

The exhibition is attempting to react upon graffiti, posters and other slogans in public spaces throughout Germany stating “das ist nicht unser Krieg!”.

For us it is unbearable to witness that nowadays, in the situation of radical openness, global economy, internet, and migration, war is still possible. So how can war NOT affect each of us?

With its exhibition featuring artists from Austria, Belarus, Germany, Mexico, Sweden and Ukraine, the antiwarcoalition.art proposes to comprehend the Russian invasion in Ukraine as “our” war. The artists suggest thinking about individual engagement in this war through the food supply chain, gas purchases, the distribution of labor in the IT industry, and environmental challenges.

The exhibition urges to show that the war in Ukraine is not abstract, it is not finished, it is still present. It makes us aware that the war touches upon each of us in a different way — for someone physically, for someone economically, and altogether it makes a threat to a shared future.

This is our war!

Parallel to the exhibition of antiwarcoalition.art there is a charity event with 50 artists from Düsseldorf, who donate their works for sale between 20-400 Euro. The collected money will be donated to the Ukrainian Emergency Art Fond. Artists help artists.
